AIR AMBULANCES UK

Air Ambulances UK (AAUK) is the national charity supporting the lifesaving work of the UK's air ambulance charities, enabling them to save even more lives every day.

Air ambulance crews bring the Emergency Department to patients who have suffered a life threatening or life changing trauma or medical emergency; providing advanced critical care to save lives. On average an air ambulance can reach someone in urgent need within 16 minutes. Anyone, anywhere in the UK can become a patient at any time. Air ambulance charities are collectively dispatched to over 126 lifesaving missions each day across the UK; each mission is funded almost entirely by the generosity of local communities.

AAUK raises national funds to invest in the air ambulance community and acts as the voice on issues of national significance. Our vision is that together we will ensure the best possible chance of survival and patient outcome for everyone in need of lifesaving pre-hospital care.

We do this by supporting and championing the invaluable work of the air ambulance community at a national level.

LOGAN'S STORY

Logan was just 12 years old when he suffered a life-threatening medical emergency, leaving him in need of critical care from his local air ambulance.

As every parents' worst nightmare unfolded, Logan's mum Sue, tells his story:

As I was in the toilet downstairs, I heard my daughter calling for me saying that Logan had a headache. I thought he just didn't want to come for the walk, but when I got upstairs he was doubled over in pain."

Immediately, Sue made the decision to call 999, alerting her friend Stacey and asking her to come over.

"Whilst on the phone to the emergency services, I felt quite calm as I answered all their questions. The 999 caller was really lovely. Logan had gone very quiet but was still able to help by answering a couple of the questions they asked, but within a few minutes he had lost consciousness."

By this time, Sue's friend Stacey had arrived. They moved Logan out on to the landing to make more room for when the paramedics arrived, and together, they began CPR on Logan.

"This is when I lost the plot a little, and became very emotional. I remember my daughter being incredibly brave and looking after me."

The decision was made to call for more specialist help and the GWAAC crew of Critical Care Doctor Andy and Specialist Paramedics, Fleur and Mark were dispatched to assist.

On scene, the crew decided to place Logan into an induced coma to protect his brain from further damage. So they performed a pre-hospital emergency anaesthesia. Once stable, they were able to escort Logan to Bristol Children's Hospital in a land ambulance where he was immediately taken for emergency surgery to relieve pressure on his brain.

"I remember being scared to death, not only at home but for most of the day that followed. Logan's dad and I were at the hospital all day until 3am the following morning when we were finally allowed to see Logan." Logan has since been in for more surgery on his brain to remove abnormal veins, and nine months on from falling unwell, he was able to come and visit Great Western Air Ambulance Charity's air base with his family.
